Re: Operation "Riga Hill"

SITUATION

SUMMARY

Wolf Seven reported a large AA-emplacement at a base west of Zoros Bay (codename 'Istanbul'). The Istanbul base gets its intel from a radar site a little north east (codename 'Barcelona'). JSOC want these sites taken care off a.s.a.p.

INTEL ON ENEMY FORCES

CSAT has sent more reinforcements to Altis since DEVGru started JSOC operations. Barcelona and Istanbul are important sites for CSAT so expect them to be guarded well. There's a CSAT CP near the Edessa bridge and a small naval base east of Barcelona. The southern MSR lies across the AO, so expect CSAT foot/vehicle patrols. There are several CSAT bases in the vicinity. Avoid them at all cost!

NATO FORCES

Three troops:

One command troop - SSC, marksman, squadron paramedic and a recon/UAV specialist.
Two assault troops (AT) - Troop Leader and 4 Assault Specialists.

This is a 'plausible deniability' op.

The Brits are about to undertake a CSAR op near Neochori. Call sign 'Gladiator'.

OBJECTIVES

MISSION OBJECTIVES

1. Destroy the radar installation at Barcelona.
2. Neutralize the AA-emplacements at Istanbul.

TACTICAL / EXECUTION

CONCEPT OF OPERATIONS

We'll insert your teams at dusk. Move covertly and as quickly as you can towards your first objective. Make sure you get out of the AO before CSAT gets any wiser. There are several bases in the area that surely will send reinforcements once all hell breaks loose.

TACTICAL MOVEMENT

Movement plan, control points, BP's and routes will be briefed on-site by SSC.
